

Marcel Monien

I have studied Financial and Business Mathematics at the Technical University Braunschweig.

After my practical diploma thesis in the market risk department of the Norddeutsche Landesbank Hannover I started to work in the department for operational risk in 2008.

At present I am primarily responsible for the development of the quantification model and the key risk indicators to receive the approval for an AMA.