

Davide Girompini

As Global Leader for Payments and Securities within the IBM Banking Industry Framework organization, Mr. Davide Girompini brings his 15 years experience in projects and solutions in the payments and securities area with particular focus on international payments and integration platforms to allow new business models and new operating processes. He has published a variety of articles and participated as speaker in many international events on payments.

Mr. Girompini joined IBM Italy in 1984 as financial analyst and then held a variety of professional and management position within the IBM internal organization including a 3-year assignment in United States. Starting from 1995 Mr. Girompini moved to Client facing roles as projects manager, solutions sales and subject matter expert in Payments and Securities in Italy and in South West region for IBM. He has been appointed in the new role starting from January 2010.