

Vivocha - a startup with offices in San Francisco, Milan and Cagliari - provides an online customer interaction platform that enables businesses to seamlessly communicate with prospects and customers directly on the website, using any combination of VoIP, video, chat, callbacks and collaboration tools like assisted browsing and form and document sharing.